for Creative Vision*

The UT Documentary Center announces the first annual Arch Campbell Award for Creative Vision for the 2008-2009 school year.

Eligibility: The award will go to support an undergraduate or graduate student project related to documentary film work. The grantee must be enrolled in the Department of Radio-TV-Film for the Fall 2008 and Spring 2009 semesters and will be selected based on academic merit and creative vision.

2008-2009 Award: $700.00 stipend to be used during the Spring 2009 semester towards travel, living requirements, equipment, or other incurred expenses related to the project. The funds are not to be used for tuition and fee support.

To Apply: Please submit the following materials to the contact below on or before 5pm Wednesday November 19th.

- A work sample on DVD, maximum 10 minutes total run time.
- A statement of purpose that describes your current career goals and clearly states how such funding would assist in the short term as well as support your long-term professional development.
- An outline of the specific project for which you are seeking support.
- A faculty reference from whom we may request a letter of support if your application moves to the final selection round.

Application Contact: Jean Lauer, UT Documentary Center
Applications may be submitted in person to the Documentary Center mailbox in CMA 6.118. For mailing address or further clarification, please contact documentarycenter@austin.utexas.edu.

Award Announced: The grantee will be selected and announced on or prior to Monday December 15th.

Upon Completion of the Project: The grantee shall present to a faculty committee, selected by the Department Chair, the final creative piece funded by the award.

About the Award: The award, funded by a gift from Mr. Arch Campbell, will alternate annually between the Department of Radio-Television-Film and the School of Journalism starting with the Department of Radio-Television-Film.
